Rest propositions

- The transformation of the Eendragtspolder led to the full enhancement of the interests of recreation, water and sport (rowing).
- A joint development in integrating mutual interests generates creativity.
- Collaboration takes time and results in delay.
- Collaboration in an area development should be managed.
- The result of collaboration in an area development is more than the sum of the individual developments.
- Collaboration in the spatial development of the Eendragtspolder is dictated by the huge spatial pressure in the region.
