

Information: Professional journals

- ⇒ Professional journals (also called trade journals) are aimed at informing professionals in their field of interest, such as manager, farmers, or dieticians.
- ⇒ Only the most recent issues (current year) are displayed in the bookshelves in the Library (visible or under the lid of the bookshelves).
- ⇒ The older issues are stored in the “Stacks” (in the basement) and can be requested through the Library website.

For American Bee Journal, see <https://wur.on.worldcat.org/oclc/1479576> (you don't need to request anything).

- ⇒ You cannot loan journals, as they must be available for everyone. But you can read them in the library and make a copy if necessary.

Now, continue with Mission 3.

Mission 3

Take out your Library Game punch card and go to the Writing Lab. Read the information, punch your card and follow the instructions to the next punch location. Good luck!

The Writing Lab is located in room 260, next to the journal racks.
